Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- 2. Claims 1-7, 12-14, 21-24, and 28-29, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Yonemitsu et al as set forth in the previous Office Action mailed out 2/12/04 (Paper No. 9).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. Claims 8-10, 15-20, and 25-27, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yonemitsu et al in view of the admitted prior art, Figure 1, of the present Application, as set forth in the previous Office Action mailed out on 2/12/04 (Paper No. 9).

Double Patenting

6. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970);and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

- 7. Claims 1-29 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-32 of copending Application No. 09/534,494, as set forth in the previous Office Action mailed out 2/12/04 (Paper No. 9).
- 8. This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments filed 5/10/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Art Unit: 2615

Applicant's argues that the cited reference of Yonemitsu is improper, because, Yonemitsu et al fails to disclose the claimed feature of the CD-type disk. Particularly, Applicant indicates that the disk disclosed in Yonemitsu et al does not have a track pitch of 1.6 microns + or – 0.1 micron as a CD-type disk would have.

Contrary to the Applicant's argument, it is noted that Yonemitsu et al does disclose a CD-type disk. Applicant's attention is directed to Yonemitsu et al' column 29, lines 23-24, where it is disclosed that the Yonemitsu et al's apparatus is directed to a CD-ROM type disk; and furthermore, Applicant's attention is directed to Yonemitsu et al's column 1, lines 15-17, where it is disclosed that optical disks used in a computer environment are known as CD-ROM. Furthermore, with regard to the feature of the track pitch being of 1.6 microns + or – 0.1 micron argued by Applicant, it is noted that such a feature is not recited in the claimed invention.

Regarding the Applicant's argument in that the cited reference of Yonemitsu et al fails to disclose the feature of both formats, that is the CD-ROM format and the DVD format being present in the CD-type recording medium, Examiner disagrees. It is noted that such a feature of the CD-type disk having both the CD-ROM format and the DVD format, where these two formats are present at the same time on the disk as argued by Applicant, is disclosed in Yonemitsu et al. Applicant's attention is directed to Yonemitsu et al's column 5, lines 43-45, where it is disclosed that different types of data being recorded on the disk, such as CD-ROM and also adapted for use as a DVD.

Furthermore, Applicant's attention is directed to Yonemitsu et al's column 31, lines 52-54.

Regarding the Applicant's argument in that the cited reference of Yonemitsu et al fails to specifically disclose the claimed feature of encoding a received A/V signal into a second format to provide an A/V stream, and then formatting the A/V stream according to a predetermined file system, Examiner disagrees. It is noted that such a feature argued above by Applicant is present in Yonemitsu et al. (See the capability of encoding/compressing the received video and audio signals to generate the A/V stream and the capability of recording the same in DVD format as disclosed in Yonemitsu et al's Figure 32, components 102, 105, 107 and 121, and Figure 1).

In view of the Double Patenting rejection indicated above, Applicant indicates that a Terminal Disclaimer was provided in order to withdraw said rejection. However, the Terminal Disclaimer is not part of the record, Applicant's cooperation is resubmitting the Terminal Disclaimer is appreciated.

Conclusion

10. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).
